

1.0 Introduction

This statement is issued in accordance with the requirements of Section 54, Part 6 of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and identifies the steps Ultima Business Solutions Ltd ('Ultima') has taken to ensure that slavery and human trafficking does not take place within our business and also that of our Suppliers for the financial year ending 31 March 2023.

Ultima is opposed to slavery, trafficking in persons and forced labor in any form. We are committed to ensuring there is transparency in our own business and in our approach to tackling modern slavery throughout our supply chains. We expect the same high standards from all of our contractors, suppliers and other business partners.

2.0 Organisation Structure

Ultima is a company based wholly in the United Kingdom providing Information Technology solutions to corporate businesses, mainly within the UK. A small amount of our business is conducted offshore, predominantly (but not limited to) Europe, but this accounts for less than 5% of our revenue. We are headquartered in Reading and employ approximately 390 people.

Ultima believes that all staff should be paid fairly and in accordance with the law. Ultima offers unpaid short work experience opportunities to local school age children as part of our Giving Back strategy. Ultima does not offer unpaid internships.

Ultima are a Real Living Wage accredited employer. The Real Living Wage is a voluntary rate of pay set by the Living Wage Foundation and is based on the costs of living, helping to mitigate the risk of labour exploitation among low income workers and households.

3.0 Supply Chain

Ultima sell a wide range of product and services including IT hardware, vendor software licences and asset management, hardware maintenance, professional services (engineering, consultancy and project management) and managed services (cloud management, remote monitoring and management of systems, on-site and remote help desks, third line telephone support).

We use our supply chain to procure hardware for resale to our customers together with vendor software licences; maintenance services; consultancy services; network & communications services and datacentre services. We work with reputable UK distribution channels, but from time to time have a requirement to source offshore. We appreciate there is an increased risk in the latter case and take additional steps to qualify any foreign suppliers before engagement.

We endeavour to appoint suppliers that we can trust, respect and that provide transparency. We require our suppliers to meet our high expectation of standards and business practices. We expect our suppliers to comply with applicable laws and regulations wherever they may operate and in turn to promote and expect similar standards from their own suppliers.

6.0 Due Diligence Checks on Suppliers

- a. New Suppliers take on procedure pertinent to Modern Slavery:
  - Initial selection of a new supplier that typically has an established operation within the UK and good track record within the industry for service and compliance.
  - A Supplier Code of Conduct is issued which addresses the behaviour that we expect our suppliers to adhere to which includes modern slavery. This includes a signed declaration that the supplier will comply with the code. If a supplier is unable to sign our Code of Conduct we would expect them to provide their own corporate policy and discuss any resulting risks to ensure that our standards are maintained.
  - Questionnaire issued to suppliers and results reviewed. This includes specific questions regarding Slavery, Human Trafficking and employment of young persons to confirm compliance with the law. Where we perceive there to be an elevated risk, due to the nature of the supply, we will seek additional assurances.
