

Email Security Posture Assessment

Strengthen your digital defence against the top targeted attack vector.

In the fast-paced digital world, email remains a lifeline for businesses to communicate and collaborate. However, it also holds the dubious distinction of being the number one targeted attack vector for cybercriminals. Protecting your organisation from email-based threats is more critical than ever.

Welcome to our free Email Security Posture Assessment Service, which gives you an opportunity to fortify your email security by thoroughly reviewing your current solution and proposing beneficial changes.

“84% of security decision-makers have seen increases in at least one type of email-borne attack over the past 12 months.”

Our Email Security Posture Assessment

-  Combatting the top threat - With email being the primary target for cybercriminals, a regular independent assessment of your current email security solution is prudent to ensure the continued effectiveness of your email security defences against evolving threats and vulnerabilities.
-  Tailored recommendations - Based on the assessment, we provide personalised recommendations, suggesting changes and enhancements that align with your unique business needs, and address the specific risks posed by email-based attacks.
-  Optimised protection - By implementing our suggested improvements, you elevate your defence against phishing, malware, ransomware, business email compromise, BEC spoofing and other email-borne threats, reducing the risk of successful attacks.
-  Maximising ROI - Our service ensures that your investments in email security yield the best possible returns, safeguarding your sensitive data and valuable assets from ever-persistent cyber threats.
-  Peace of mind - With your email security reinforced through our comprehensive assessment, you can have confidence in the integrity and confidentiality of your digital communication.

Why Ultima?

As an experienced IT Service Provider, we understand the gravity of the email security challenge. Our Email Security Posture Assessment is designed to validate your current solution and where required, suggest changes to ensure its efficacy and minimise any potential gaps that cybercriminals could exploit.

Empower your business with proactive and adaptive email security. Schedule an Email Security Posture Assessment today, and let our experts help you build a robust defence that aligns perfectly with your unique requirements. Don't wait for cyber threats to strike, secure your digital communication now.

Contact us to get started.